in 2008 the first in a series of symposia established a social realist case for knowledge as an alternative to the relativist tendencies of the constructivist post structuralist and postmodernist approaches dominant in the sociology of education the second symposium focused on curriculum and the development of a theoretical language grounded in social realism to talk about issues of knowledge and curriculum finally the third symposium brought together researchers in a broad range of contexts to build on these ideas and arguments and with a concerted empirical focus bring these social realist ideas and arguments into conversation with data knowledge curriculum and equity social realist perspectives contains the work of the third symposium where the strengths and gaps in the social realist approach are identified and where there is critical recognition of the need to incrementally extend the theories through empirical study fundamentally the problem that social realism is seeking to address is about understanding the social conditions of knowledge production and exchange as well as its structuring in the curriculum and in pedagogy the central concern is with the on going social reproduction of inequality through schooling and exploring whether and how foregrounding specialised knowledge and its access holds the possibility for interrupting it this book consists of 13 chapters by different authors working in oceania asia europe africa and north america from very different vantage points the authors focus their theoretical and empirical sights on the assumptions about knowledge that underpin educational processes and the pursuit of more equitable schooling for all this book focuses on how to improve the teaching and learning of primary level mathematics education within resource constrained contexts it builds on two large numeracy projects within south africa which speak to broader global concerns and highlight how research and development not only enables one to meet ethical imperatives but also explore how further interventions can be developed teacher and research communities must work together to create mutually beneficial relationships and establish a cohesive understanding of the requirements of primary mathematics education the education triple cocktail brings together rigorous quantitative and qualitative research on a new approach to improving foundational teaching and learning for schoolchildren living in working class poor and remote rural communities in resource constrained systems like south africa at the core of this book is the theory and evidence for a powerful new interlocking and mutually reinforcing change model inspired by the aids treatment story the three pronged approach of structured daily lesson plans appropriate and high quality educational materials and one on one instructional coaching to help teachers transform their instructional practices in early grade classrooms shows that it will improve learning outcomes for education systems defined by low levels of early grade learning and profoundly unequal outcomes the education triple cocktail offers a theoretically informed evidence based way forward this book will be of immense use to teachers students of education policymakers and parents twenty years of education transformation in gauteng 1994 to 2014 an independent review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 these essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area the book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader it sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially there has been no attempt to fit the book's chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the gauteng department of education's present and past we leave the reader to decide to what extent the gde has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years there is a better way for teachers to plan effectively have sufficient time to perform other important tasks and yet be productive in the matter of helping students reach their greatest potential and higher this gives teachers a sense of satisfaction that promotes an avenue of clear creative thinking that in itself minimizes stress and opens a path of success that's second to none the professional plan book offers sections for writing goals objectives and space for 45 weeks of lesson plans a substitute chart a daily schedule chart seating charts a grade book with enlarged spaces and other features quarterly test data charts to keep track on how well your class is performing homework charts enlarge type and more for easy access organization and documentation the professional lesson plan book is designed to replace unnecessary staff development sessions and workshops that take up valuable planning time teachers need for pre-planning goals objectives and lesson plans at the beginning and throughout the school year it seriously requires full cooperation and support from the state school board of education parents and other administrative departments to synchronize reasonable and effective rules for teachers to abide by and making a sincere effort to leave most of their professional time to teaching and addressing the needs of each student
