good sermon illustrations are among a preacher s most persistent needs however carlos e wilton argues that asking where to find good illustrations is the wrong question in illuminating sermons wilton offers practical wisdom about how preachers can curate their own materials that extend beyond sermon illustrations using museum curation as a lens this book presents the foundational habit of holy wonder to help preachers recognize short textual materials metaphors stories quotations and poetry that shimmer with the possibility of inspiration the book casts an imaginative vision for preachers to develop lifelong disciplines of attention creativity discernment and personal organization as they acquire store and deploy materials that illuminate rather than illustrate illuminating sermons provides an accessible approach for preachers to develop and sustain a practice to curate their own sermon illuminations this easy to use approach makes the book ideal for seminary students in homiletics preachers and lay ministry educators who desire an innovative approach toward sermon preparation and development this edited book was produced through a transnational and transdisciplinary unesco chair project on gender and vulnerability in disaster risk reduction support contributors come from five disaster prone asian countries and the chapters reflect their rich knowledge and practical experience in disaster management and humanitarian assistance the chapters all with a focus on gender and vulnerability illustrate that gender can make people especially women vulnerable the chapters address the experiences of state and non state actors responding to disaster and promoting recovery at the local level however while women and vulnerable people may be victims of disasters they also serve as agents for recovery and voices for better disaster preparedness in sharing both successes and failures as well as suggestions for the future this book speaks to the need for transdisciplinary knowledge and multilevel coordination as well as full equality for all genders and respect for human rights in order to cope with increasingly more frequent intense and complex emergencies this book is of interest as a text to students in a variety of disciplines who are focusing on disaster and health emergencies as well as to practitioners and others promoting disaster risk reduction and resilience instant new york times bestseller a new york times notable book of 2018 one of the economist s books of the year my new favorite book of all time bill gates if you think the world is coming to an end think again people are living longer healthier freer and happier lives and while our problems are formidable the solutions lie in the enlightenment ideal of using reason and science by the author of the new book rationality is the world really falling apart is the ideal of progress obsolete in this elegant assessment of the human condition in the third millennium cognitive scientist and public intellectual steven pinker urges us to step back from the gory headlines and prophecies of doom which play to our psychological biases instead follow the data in seventy five jaw dropping graphs pinker shows that life health prosperity safety peace knowledge and happiness are on the rise not just in the west but worldwide this progress is not the result of some cosmic force it is a gift of the enlightenment the conviction that reason and science can enhance human flourishing far from being a naïve hope the enlightenment we now know has worked but more than ever it needs a vigorous defense the enlightenment project swims against currents of human nature tribalism authoritarianism demonization magical thinking which demagogues are all too willing to exploit many commentators committed to political religious or romantic ideologies fight a rearguard action against it the result is a corrosive fatalism and a willingness to wreck the precious institutions of liberal democracy and global cooperation with intellectual depth and literary flair enlightenment now makes the case for reason science and humanism the ideals we need to confront our problems and continue our progress along a stream a dam pops out of the water beavers are busy at work these aquatic mammals have unique traits that aid them in building the perfect lodge to raise young beavers and keep predators away mary holland s vibrant photographs document the beavers activities through the course of a year do these beavers ever take a break follow along as they pop through the winter ice to begin the busy year of eating bark building dams and gathering food just in time for winter to come again if anyone believes that style does not appeal to the young readers let him open mr andrew lang s the animal story book and read to any intelligent child of nine years dumas description of mysouf i mysouf ii and pritchard and note how soon dumas becomes a living personality to the child then let him turn and read out of the same book the account of cowper and his hares bess and puss and tincy were doubtless as interesting in their way as the dogs and cats and monkeys owned by dumas but the child does not care for them he begs you to read more from dumas young as the child is dumas has cast a spell around him the spell of a sparkling and animated style mr lang s animal story book ought to delight both old and young as one may find therein pen portraits of most of the remarkable animals that have interested the world since primitive times and because authors are as a class peculiarly fond of animals the reader of this charming book is brought into intimate relations with pliny théophile gautier and many other remarkable men storytelling a tradition that built human civilization may soon destroy it humans are storytelling animals stories are what make our societies possible countless books celebrate their virtues but jonathan gottschall an expert on the science of stories argues that there is a dark side to storytelling we can no longer ignore storytelling the very tradition that built human civilization may be the thing that destroys it in the story paradox gottschall explores how a broad consortium of psychologists communications specialists neuroscientists and literary quants are using the scientific method to study how stories affect our brains the results challenge the idea that storytelling is an obvious force for good in human life yes storytelling can bind groups together but it is also the main force dragging people apart and it s the best method we ve ever devised for manipulating each other by circumventing rational thought behind all civilization s greatest ills environmental destruction runaway demagogues warfare you will always find the same master factor a mind disordering story gottschall argues that societies succeed or fail depending on how they manage these tensions and it has only become harder as new technologies that amplify the effects of disinformation campaigns conspiracy theories and fake news make separating fact from fiction nearly impossible with clarity and conviction gottschall reveals why our biggest asset has become our greatest threat and what if anything can be done it is a call to stop asking how we can change the world through stories and start asking how can we save the world from stories
